Conflict Resolution Services provides voluntary, neutral, confidential processes to assist students when conflicts, disputes, or interpersonal challenges arise.

Some services include:

- Conflict Coaching: Receive one-on-one coaching to get clarity, explore options, and develop solutions to a current or ongoing conflict.

- Conflict Mediation: Schedule to meet with a mediator who is a neutral third party in conflict. Mediators help to facilitate dialogue between individuals in conflict.

- Restorative Justice: Learn about a process that helps students take responsibility for actions that cause harm to individuals, groups, and/or the Fort Collins community. RJ promotes relationship-building, understanding, repair, and closure.

- Grade Appeals: If your final grade was not what you expected, CR staff can explain the process to submit an appeal and offer feedback on your appeal.
